A bend in the road . . .

WILLIAM MARVIN PENN
August 10, 1918
October 20, 1936

WE PAUSE at the beginning of this volume in a moment of quiet contemplation and heartfelt search for understanding. We cannot know what lies around the bend; we can only feel that what is there is beautiful. It is our deep privilege to have known these and to try to live out their youthful lives for them. "To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."

The CHILHOWEAN for 1937

Volume Thirty-One

PUBLISHED ANNUALLY BY

MARYVILLE COLLEGE
MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

IN DEDICATION

To

for twenty-three years professor, counselor, friend at Maryville, this, the thirty-first volume of the "Chilhowean," is affectionately dedicated. As you have loved wild life and made the birds your friends, "Daddy," so have you won forever the trust and love and friendship of us all. It is our honor to dedicate to you this record.

"DADDY"

PROLOGUE

In the spirit of the valiant Scottish chiefs with whom we at Maryville identify ourselves this, the thirty-first volume of the "Chilhowean," is presented. But in the casual marking down of our activities and achievements there are those whom we must not forget. There is the sacrifice and devotion of the parents who have made ours this privilege; there are the patient efforts of our professors who have tried to give us their thirst for knowledge; and lastly there are our friends among our fellows without whose companionship and encouragement we might have failed. Thus then do we present this record: to preserve and to perpetuate the memories of a happy year . . . the "Chilhowean" for 1937.

"Conquerors Through Christ"

Silsby: "Mr. Chairman?"

Porter: "Mr. Silsby."

Silsby: "I move that we, the members present, organize ourselves into the Young Men's Christian Association of Maryville College, the object of which organization will be to promote religion and pure Godliness among young men."

And thus it was, exactly sixty years ago, that the Maryville College Y. M. C. A. was founded with J. B. Porter of the class of 1877 as its first president.

Founded on such high Christian ideals it has striven to meet the needs of Maryville's young men for many years. Seeking to develop the threefold life, the mental, the moral, and the physical, as it is embodied in our motto, the Y.M.C.A., in an endeavor to supplement the general social life of the campus, sponsors inter-class athletics, banquets, and mountain hikes.

The entire "Y" program is integrated about the Sunday afternoon devotional meetings where prominent guest speakers, musical programs, and group discussions help us solve our vital problems. The spirit of Christ pervades the entire program and culminates in a search for vital, Christian living on the part of every man.

For more than forty years of the college life at Maryville, the Y. W. C. A. has been steadfastly one of the most influential forces in developing the individual in a well-rounded college life.

In the peaceful atmosphere of the Y. W. rooms, girls come together on Sunday afternoons to seek a broader understanding of life and comradeship of those about them.

The Big Sister movement, the Nu Gamma Sigma groups, have helped make new students welcome to the campus. The Y. W. C. A. has sponsored women's athletics, prayer groups in each of the dormitories, and many other things which help to make life bigger. In the college town it has brought fuller opportunities of living to the orphanage and the mission. It has, on the Hill, aided in sponsoring the Artists' Series, the "M" book, and the newly organized Peace Forum. Through sending delegates to the State Student Conference and the East Tennessee Interracial Conference, and by membership in the World Student Christian Association we have broadened our horizon.

The Y. W. C. A. strives sincerely to forward each individual in his quest to attain for himself and others the highest of Christian ideals.

Nu Gamma, as a part of the Y. W. C. A. organization, has as its purpose the welcoming and orienting of new girls who come to the Hill. Under the leadership of upperclassmen, small groups meet weekly at the beginning of the year to discuss our campus ideals and to help in making adjustments to our campus life. Nu Gamma stands for:

U sefulness in Service

G rowth, both Spiritual and Social
A ppreciation of Beauty and of Truth

PI KAPPA DELTA

National Honorary Forensic Fraternity

The Art of Persuasion, Beautiful and Just

For many years Maryville has been outstanding in forensics, and has the honor of having the Tennessee Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta. Debating, oratory, after-dinner, extempore, and impromptu speaking have been part of Maryville's forensic program. Seventeen members have comprised this year's varsity debate squad, which beside many dual debates has participated in the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament at Rock Hill, South Carolina, the Provincial Pi Kappa Delta Convention at Johnson City, and the All-South Convention at Nashville.

After rush week and a warm Southern style welcome in the fall, new Bainonians, following the example of older members, soon found their places both in classes and in extra-curricular life. Through the year the varied activities of the society included clever programs, joint meetings with brother Athenians, the very successful presentation of the mid-winter, "Elizabeth the Queen," and other highlights of achievement.

Since its founding in 1874, Bainonian's place on the Hill has been outstanding. Not the least of her ideals maintained are the deep feelings of friendship among the members and a marked loyalty to Maryville, qualities which will linger long after we leave her portals.

Proud of her achievements in the past, Bainonian looks forward to greater triumphs and many happy years of friendships to come. "Our strong bond can ne'er be broken, sealed by friendship's tie."

Athenian Literary Society has played an outstanding role in Maryville College life for sixty-nine years. Founded in 1868, the pioneer of the four societies, it has continued through the years the same fine spirit of cooperative comradeship among all its members who realize the real honor and high privilege of having their names included on the society's roster.

Athenian members are to be found at the head of many campus activities. The presidents of the Y. M. C. A., the Senior Class, the Student Volunteers, and the Ministerial Association are all Athenian men.

Continuing to maintain the purpose of its founders, the society has featured many programs of literary merit and esthetic value. The successful presentation of "Graustark," its mid-winter, and the conducting of short story and playwriting contests have been featured. The fellowship and cooperation of Athenian men will continue to be felt in the future as in the past.

From east and west, from north and south come the members of Theta Epsilon Society. In every one of our forty-three years there has been characteristic of our group a spirit of friendship felt on the campus as well as in the society hall.

We are proud of Theta Epsilon! From September to June the society is represented in the fields of drama, music, journalism, athletics, art, and scholastic achievement. A signal success in George Kelly's Pulitzer Prize play, "Craig's Wife," was only one of the many achievements that warmed each member's heart with pride.

Continuing to offer opportunity for self-expression and development to each member, we are willing to meet the challenge of past victories and strive for even greater attainments. "Happy Sisters," we! May we ever keep before us our noble motto: Si Deus Nobiscum, Quis Contra Nos?

Alpha Sigma Society was founded in 1882 under the leadership of its first president, John Grant Newman, who honored the society with a visit this year. It was, and still remains, a society in which all phases of college activity—drama, music, journalism, oratory, athletics, scholastic achievement—play their part. Alpha Sigma has been characterized by its informal congeniality, its members enjoying the weekly meetings in a manner impossible where strict adherence to parliamentary procedure might dampen enthusiasm. Our spirit will be found among us on the campus and in the halls. Among us you will find many who stand out among their fellow students. We are proud of our society, yet always to every fellow student, of our own group or of our friendly rival societies, remains our extended right hand of good fellowship. In this spirit Alpha Sigma will continue to contribute her part to Maryville College.

In 1930, twenty-one Home Economics majors and other students founded the Home Economics Club. The organization, under the supervision of Miss Meiselwitz and Miss Armstrong, has grown until it now has fifty members.

The club meets every other week and creates friendships among the students of the Home Economics Department, besides carrying out the aim of the founders in presenting a broader view of the field, forming a link between school and home, and sponsoring such extra-curricular projects as open house teas, banquets, camping trips, and the publishing of the Betty Lamp, a Home Economics news letter sent to all alumnae of the department.

THE DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS

The Department of Fine Arts is in its first year as an integral part of the college. More than half a century ago there were teachers of music and art at Maryville College, and almost forty years ago a teacher of expression, but not until this year have these branches of the fine arts been made a part of the curriculum. A student may now major in music or dramatic art, and plans call for similar provisions in pictorial art. Private and class lessons are given in theory, history, appreciation, and the like, and many musical and dramatic organizations and productions provide an outlet for maturing artists.

The Vesper Choir, Orchestra, Band, and Men's and Women's Glee Clubs are under direction of the music faculty. They have formed the nuclei of The Messiah, The Mikado, and Elijah this year. The Band has been uniformed for the first time. The Disc Club meets regularly to hear and discuss great recorded musical compositions. In the Fine Arts studio numerous recitals are given.

The present year has been notable because of the gift to the college of about forty portraits and portrait studies and about one hundred and fifty landscapes and marines, the work of the late Elizabeth Gowdy Baker, eminent painter of New York City. The collection, given by her husband, Mr. Daniel G. Baker, constitute the Elizabeth Gowdy Baker Memorial Art Gallery, situated in Anderson Hall.

Maryville College is building its curriculum and emphasis on the basis that the fine arts are an essential part of a liberal arts education.

THE MUSIC GRADUATES

A diploma has been awarded each year to those students in music who have attained a certain degree of proficiency during their years of study in this department.

THE MESSIAH

George Frederick Handel's famous oratorio, "The Messiah," was presented in Voorhees Chapel Sunday afternoon, December 13, the fourth annual performance of this well-known and beautiful masterpiece. The Vesper Choir and the Glee Clubs, augmented by students, faculty members, and residents of Maryville to a chorus of one hundred and seventy-five voices, were accompanied by the Maryville College Little Symphony Orchestra, the entire presentation under the baton of Professor Ralph Colbert.

The soprano solo parts were taken by Mrs. L. R. Snelson, Mrs. J. R. Mitchell, Lilian Borgquist, and Calista Palmer. Harriet Barber and Margaret Law sang the contralto parts. Robert Cusworth, tenor, and Donnell McArthur, bass, completed the list of soloists, all students or local residents. Garnet Manges was pianist for the orchestra.

The presentation of Handel's heart-stirring oratorio has become an established part of the Christmas season at the college. The background design, by Miss Gertrude Meiselwitz, contributed greatly to the success of the presentation this year.

THE VESPER CHOIR

Under the direction of Mr. Ralph Colbert, the Vesper Choir, with an expanded chorus, has presented for the fourth consecutive year Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah." During the year a recital of sacred music was presented at the Central Methodist Church, Knoxville, as well as Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," at the college during April. Through harmonic singing in the Sunday evening vesper hour at the college the choir has attempted to contribute to its hearers the power and beauty of the music as it is felt by those who sing.

In the early autumn of this school year, the Women's Glee Club began its activities by welcoming its new members with a "Melody Masquerade" in the "Y" rooms. With more new members in February, the membership this year has been greater than ever before.

Cooperating with the Vesper Choir and the Glee Singers, the beautiful oratorios, "The Messiah" and "Elijah," were presented this year, as well as the popular opera, "The Mikado."

Although the ideal of the Women's Glee Club has been to bring into the lives of those about the campus a more intimate understanding of musical composition, this has not been our sole aim. It has been through these moments of comradeship in harmony and melody that each of us has attained a richer and deeper appreciation of the beauty of life.

The activities of the Maryville College Glee Singers have been many and varied this year under the new direction of Mr. Ralph Colbert. Cooperating in the presentation of Handel's "The Messiah" and in Mendelssohn's "Elijah," the Glee Singers, besides concerts at home and out-of-town, cooperated in the very successful presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado."

Aside from the enjoyment of giving public performances, each man among the singers has developed deeper appreciations and friendships through singing in harmony with his comrades.

THE MIKADO

The presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's popular light opera, "The Mikado," by the combined Glee Clubs, under the direction of Mr. Ralph Colbert, on March 12, was an event not soon to be forgotten. Accompanied by the Maryville College Little Symphony Orchestra, the opera was called to give a second performance on the stage of Knoxville High School one week later.

With fine staging, excellent costumes, a good orchestral background, and a large chorus, the principals found it not difficult to draw applause from enthusiastic audiences. The role of Nanki-Pooh was sung by Dick Woodring, with Nancy Quinn as Yum-Yum. Bill Karukas scored a signal success as Koko, with Harriet Barber as the elderly Katisha. George Brown as Pooh-Bah, Edward Goddard as Pish-Tush, Evan Renne as the Mikado, Mildred Erlingheuser and Marian Huddleston as Peep-Bo and Pitti-Sing complete the cast of the successful production.

THE MIDWINTERS

ELIZABETH, THE QUEEN

Bainonian's well-staged production of Maxwell Anderson's Elizabeth, the Queen, opened the mid-winter season. Outstanding for its costuming and an excellent title performance by Lois Brown, this play was a strong contender for the Theta Alpha Phi cup.

THE ADMIRABLE CRICHTON

With Robert Gillespie in the title role of Sir James M. Barrie's well-known play, Alpha Sigma's contribution to the mid-winter series was unique. An excellent play and a strong cast were among the merits of Alpha Sigma's production.

SEASON 1936-1937

CRAIG'S WIFE

With a brilliant performance by Deane Bell and Gordon Bennett, together with excellent staging and an experienced supporting cast, Theta Epsilon won for the second straight year the Theta Alpha Phi cup with George Kelly's Pulitzer Prize play, Craig's Wife.

GRAUSTARK

Athenian's presentation of Grace Hayward's adaptation of McCutcheon's novel, Graustark, brought to a fine close the mid-winter season. Lois Black, Gerald Beaver, and Mark Andrews gave excellent interpretations of the leading roles.

1936 FOOTBALL SEASON

Finishing the season in third place in the Smoky Mountain Conference, the Highlanders of 1936 enjoyed one of the best seasons in recent years. Handicapped by heavy losses from graduation, the squad approached a difficult season. But their record reflects their spirit. Five games were won and five were lost.

But the number of games won and lost does not tell the true story. For those of us who saw those games the 1936 season will hold memories of countless thrilling moments. That field goal against Kentucky . . . The rain at the Cullowhee game . . . Overly kicking the extra point to win against Milligan . . . "Corky's" sleeper pass in the game with Wesleyan . . . Teachers' heart-breaking win by a safety . . . The Highlanders holding Tennessee on the goal line at Knoxville . . . O'Dell's field goal and Burris' running against the King Tornado . . . The fighting spirit of the whole team in every game . . . These will remain vivid memories when many more seasons have followed this one.

When the arc lights shine down on Wilson Field again next year there'll be something missing. Crawford, with his drive and fight, will be gone. Alexander's alert defense will be missed. Big Stanley Hall's position at guard will be vacant. Coulter and Kosloski will not be there to play end for the Scotties. These graduating players have been great warriors. The Highlander team that takes its place on the gridiron next year will miss them.

LETTERMEN

The Highlanders of 1936 were led by Lynn "Corky" Crawford. Playing his third year, Crawford's name was respected by every team on the schedule. He tackled hard. He drove hard when he carried the ball; he fought till the whistle. He accomplished a difficult job like a gentleman. . . . His understudy, Jim Renfro, made more tackles during the season than any other player. He always came up smiling. When there was work to do, Renfro did it well. . . . Fullback Overly played a consistent game. A neat ball carrier and a great kicker, Jack turned in most of the extra points. Jack's broken rib kept him from seeing much service in the latter part of the season, but his earlier record marked him as a real player. . . . Junior Odell, big passing and kicking back, earned all the praise he gained. His field goals at Kentucky and against King will long be remembered. . . . Cochrane, biggest man on the team, was a terror in the line. Tearing through the opposition's lines, Jim stopped many a play before it started. . . . Tulloch, giant Freshman, won himself to Maryville sports fans by his hard playing and his promise of a bright future. . . . Alexander, a name bringing memories of a spectacular game, a name signifying all that a good ball player should be. Bruce will be missed. . . . Toll Coulter, one of the smallest men on the team, but every pound dynamite to the opposition. In on every play, his disposition made him one of the most popular men on the team. . . . Jim Proffitt, next year's alternate captain, was a big factor in the line. His defense game was good; his offensive game lacked little. . . . Stanley Hall made his presence felt both by his alert defense and his charging offense. A guard of no mean ability, Stan will be long remembered for the fierceness of his play. . . . Burris is one of the best broken-field runners Maryville has seen. A great deal of credit is due Al for his flashy gains and the strength of his drives.

HIGHLANDERS OF 1936

LETTERMEN

Kosloski had a good year at end. He tackled with viciousness and few were the gains around him. . . . Don Parker was a bright spot of the season. A flashy back with much speed and courage, we expect much from him next fall. . . . Cooper's game was interrupted about mid-season by a knee injury, but he played hard when he was in the lineup. A worthy center. . . . Bill Swearingen drove his way through the line for gain after gain, his fight equalled only by his clean play. . . . Bill Baird had a good year in the backfield. Always responding eagerly when called on, he will be counted on for much next year. . . . Little Davis thrilled the Scottie fans at Carson-Newman with the courage of his fight. He played well all season in spite of any weight advantage for the opposition. . . . Guy Propst received an injury in the first game, but returned the latter part of the year to do good service and earn his letter. . . . Kindred, a backfield man of no mean ability, returns next year to see valuable service. . . . Faulkner was one of the mainstays of the line. In every game he was in there fighting for all he was worth. . . . In the line there was no tougher man than Burns. He made up for his size in fight. . . . Widner was a fast, elusive player who saw valuable service in the backfield throughout the schedule. . . . Kramer—a good player with a future as well as a good season just past. . . . Jenkins, another man who played a great game in the line. The strength of his fight earned him his letter. . . . Etheridge—a Freshman back with promise of being one of the team's best players next fall. . . . Wilborn served his position well. He returns for another season next year. . . . Byrne and Guigou are two managers who served well, their efficiency and personalities making them popular with players, coaches, and fans alike. . . . The cheerleaders—Wicklund, Young, Leathers, and Stevenson —four jolly good fellows.

BASKETBALL

THE SEASON

The 1937 hardwood Highlanders turned in a most creditable record, though losing the Smoky Mountain title to Carson-Newman. Winning seventeen and losing four of the twenty-one games on the schedule, Coach L. S. Honaker's men were one of the most feared teams in the eastern part of the state. On the schedule were twelve conference games, of which the Scots won ten, losing only to the champion Eagles to take second place in the conference. The Scots also engaged three strong independent teams, besides four college teams not in the conference.

Lee Hannah, lanky center for the Highlanders, was the high-point man of the team for the season, scoring a total of 256 points and passing beyond a thousand points for his four years on the team. McGill continued his brilliant performance of last season, as did the veterans Overly and Odell. The two "finds" of the year were Stanley and Hernandez, who gave valuable service, especially toward the close of the schedule.

The season was packed with thrills. There will not be many who will soon forget the breath-taking closing minutes against Emory-Henry in the last game of the season . . . or that heart-rending overtime against Carson-Newman, with the greatest crowd in Maryville basketball history looking on . . . or Hannah's winning goal in the last twenty seconds of play against Milligan . . . McGill's accuracy against Carson-Newman . . . Overly's excellent floor work . . . Baird's fighting spirit . . . Stanley's speed and brilliance . . . Hernandez's enthusiasm. The 1937 prospects look good, but there will be two vacancies hard to fill. Lee Hannah will be out of the center circle, and Jack Overly won't be there. The Scots will miss them.

The 1936 edition of the Highlander baseball team, though starting the season late and handicapped by poor practice conditions, nevertheless turned in a record far from poor. Winning nine out of sixteen starts and finishing well up in the conference race, the season of 1936 can be justly termed a success. It was only after a bitter resistance that the Scots surrendered the Smoky Mountain championship to the East Tennessee Teachers Buccaneers.

Coach Honaker once again exhibited his skill in coaching by shaping a machine that battled most of the opponents on even terms. Only Carson-Newman and East Tennessee Teachers won their series with the Scots. Coach Honaker's team was one of which he can be proud. Its keynote was cooperation and its motto was loyalty to school and coach.

The individual playing was admirable throughout the year. Wilbur Loessburg once again played excellently in the outfield. Jim Holloway, dependable outfielder, drove out the longest home run in the history of Scottie baseball. Don Cross, at second and short, played outstanding ball. Hand, Collins, and Ashby on the mound worked well and helped the Scottie cause in many pinches. Holloway and Cross were rewarded for their playing by being chosen on the mythical Smoky Mountain Conference Team.

This season brought to a close the careers of three of Maryville's best players, Loessburg, Holloway, and Blazer. The Scots will miss them in the future.

At the close of the 1936 track season, Maryville once more stood at the front of the teams in the conference and among the leading teams in the section. Against strong opposition, the Scotties turned in record-breaking performances throughout the season.

Coach Robert Thrower moulded a team that defeated Emory and Henry, Chattanooga University, and Lincoln Memorial University, and made admirable showings against Tennessee and Davidson. In the state tourney for the second consecutive year, the Highlander thinlies ran the champion Tennessee team a close second.

In the meet with L. M. U., Eddie Lavendar, four-year pole vault ace, broke his own record by adding an inch to the existing record, elevating the reed to the height of 11 feet and 3 inches. Stu Snedeker maintained his reputation for breaking marks by clipping ten seconds off the old record, set in 1932, for the two-mile event in the meeting at Davidson. Roy Talmage clipped off part of the record for the quarter-mile in a flashing performance against Emory and Henry.

The thrill of the year was provided by a member of the track squad when Stu Snedeker gained national recognition in the Southern A. A. U. junior tryouts held at New Orleans in May. Snedeker, Maryville's sole entry in the Olympic trials, smashed all existing records in the Junior A. A. U. trials for the 5,000-meter event.

Graduating members of the squad were Snedeker, Gillis, Lavendar, Gray, Steakley, and Loessberg.

WRESTLING

THE 1937 SEASON

Coach Bob Thrower's wrestling squad, winning the Tennessee State Wrestling Championship for the seventh consecutive year, made an enviable record of five wins, one tie, and one loss. The Scottie grapplers met stiff opposition and consistently overcame every state foe they met.

Beginning the season handicapped by an inexperienced team, weakened later by absence of varsity veterans on flood duty near Louisville, and weakened by injury for the last match, the entire team's performance was outstanding. Montgomery and Propst shared the spotlight for the mat season, Montgomery winning three falls and a time advantage, the latter won after receiving a broken hand, and Propst winning two falls, three time advantages, losing only on a fifteen-second advantage in an overtime period. Meares was undefeated when he finished at mid-year, and Scull and Renfro lost but one match each. Meares, Renfro, Coulter, and Ernest will be lost by graduation, but Stevens, Scull, Montgomery, Jenkins, Tulloch, and Judy will be back to strengthen the veterans, Gillespie, Propst, and Proffitt.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Meeting early in the fall, the 1936 harriers, working with the veteran Roy Talmage as captain and coach, began a season that saw them at the end undefeated. Meeting the University of Tennessee and Lincoln Memorial University this year, the squad hopes next year to expand its schedule, with Talmage, Baird, Morgan Rugh, Mooney, Orr returning. The team will miss Rom Meares, lost this year by graduation.

SWIMMING

A season that saw records shattered by Meeks, Wicklund, and Lowe, plus the tough schedule of meeting Tusculum, Kentucky, Tennessee, Knoxville "Y," Auburn, and Emory (at Atlanta) in a series of nine meets the 1937 mermen, captained by Bob Clemmer, may look back with pride on their performance this year. With Meeks, veteran breast-stroke swimmer, and Clemmer the only men failing to return next year, the Scotties look forward to a hopeful 1938 season.

Coach Fischbach's 1936 tennis team, handicapped by inexperience, played through an admirable season. Opposing Birmingham-Southern, Tennessee, Tusculum, East Tennessee Teachers, Chattanooga, Tennessee Wesleyan, and Sewanee, the netters, under Captain Ed Scott, who won the Smoky Mountain Conference singles championship, look forward to better seasons to come.
